

stand -- I want to protect Henry Stevens and I don't want to get up there and give a lot of talk and stuff on this and that and then let the other side confuse me on that. The least I say is the best to the point. You understand that. So, they wonder why I got this down and this time and everything. We are working in daylight ^{saving} time here, see, but really these people were evidently, in his letter he says this is standard time. He talks about standard time. They used it in the state. And he and I fished there for mullet that morning around five o'clock. I would not say it was dark or just getting light or they might get me up on that.

Q Five o'clock daylight saving time? A. Yes, around five o'clock it was. So he could not get to Brunswick and back at the time that I saw him in the evening. That is the old argument. He was not there.

Q You mean he was not in New Brunswick? A. He was not in Brunswick, as Simpson wants to claim he was. Well, that is about all I can say.

Q Mr. Mellinger, how long were you on the beach that morning, the 15th, and how long did you see Henry Stevens there?

A Well, I see him at least from, I can safely say from seven o'clock until 10.30.

Q Were you on the beach all that time? A. Yes, I was
